AD CLUB DINNER IS ROUSING SUCCESS; ANOTHER MARCH 19

VITAPHONE THEATER AND RADIO ARTIST FURNISH ENTERTAINMENT

Oakland Theatrical Talent To Put On Show at Next Meeting To Be Held on Mar. 19; Reservations Being Made Now.

"HE who fails to advertise may be likened unto the young man standing afar off in the darkness, throwing kisses to his sweetheart; he knows what he's doing, but nobody else does, or cares," said Mike Cohen, publicity director of the Vitaphone theater, of Oakland, at the supper meeting of the Niles Advertising Club Tuesday evening at the Florence restaurant. Mr. Cohen spoke in regard to the necessity of telling the world of the benefits of climate, location, transportation, etc., if the residents of this community are to profit by these advantages.

Twenty-nine were present, each individual expressing enthusiasm as to the possibilities of the new organization. Practically all classes of business were represented, each person present announcing his firm and the nature of his business.

A delegation of five from the Oakland Advertising Club was present and helped to pep up the meeting. The speaker of the evening was Mike Cohen, chairman of the entertainment committee. Miss Caroline Gilman, secretary to the membership chairman and radio artist broadcasting from KTAB, KFWM, KGW, KFWI and other stations, gave several solos, accompanied by Mrs. W. J. Helm; Miss Gilman also lead the community singing which added enthusiasm to the occasion.

Ralph Walsh, membership chairman for the Oakland club, and Mrs. Lela Huey, program chairman, were present and spoke regarding the benefits of an advertising club. Harry Grant, another member of the Oakland club, was also a guest. Mr. Cohen was evidently so impressed with the possibilities of the new organization in Niles that he offered to put on a show at the next meeting of the club on March 19. He will bring several performers from Oakland and the entire program is guaranteed to be one of the best entertainments ever offered in Niles. The public is invited to this meeting but as the local dining rooms are small only those who telephone early can be accomodated. Reservations may be made by calling 72 and the plates will be 75 cents each.

A business meeting was held Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock to finish up details of organization.

"I was born in Oakland and I knew Niles as a boy," said Mr. Cohen. "I know enough about this community to know its possibilities. You are in the way of the onward march of progress and you must move to keep up. An advertising club can do much to promote a community spirit. Ask yourself 'What am I doing to build up this town?' There's no place for competition. Every organization must dovetail its efforts and projects. Every man and women in this town should be

300 COPIES REGISTER AT BRIDGE

Three hundred copies of The Township Register were distributed to members of the caravan which crossed the new San Mateo bridge Saturday afternoon. Scores of people from this community were noticed in the throng which made up the celebration of this new connecting link between the east bay and the peninsula.

Reports brought in to Niles were to the effect that the crowds on Sunday were almost equal to those of Saturday.

The car delivering the Niles papers also carried a banner for The Advertising Club of Niles.

CALIFORNIA PROUD OF HIM

Through the courtesy of Vieux Brothers, pupils at the Niles Grammar school "listened in" at the inaugural ceremonies of President Herbert Hoover, Monday morning.

Since this was the first time in history when persons not at Washington could hear the president take his oath and deliver his inaugural address together with the general atmosphere made possible by the broadcast of minute details of all events taking place and a description of the nation's capitol city, the occasion was one well worth a morning's recess for school children.

To hear the voices of three presidents was also an epochal event in history.

BIDS TO BE ASKED FOR LEGION BLDG.

CHICKEN THIEF HAS BEEN CAUGHT

The chicken thief who has been operating in Niles recently is now in the county jail in Oakland and with her 70 chickens waiting for identification. All persons who have lost poultry are asked to come into Oakland and identify their property if it happens to be in the flock. According to Harry O. Nelson from the sheriff's office who called in Niles this afternoon, there is no doubt that Elizabeth Smith, a German-Jewess, aged 57, is responsible for local thefts. She operates in a Star touring car, the back part arranged to accomodate about 100 fowls. Footprints and car tracks found here offer indisputable evidence against her. Neighbors testify that she has been seen coming into her house at 1028 Twenty-eighth street, Oakland, at 4 a.m. many times. She formerly lived at 350 South Third street, Richmond, and neighbors there testified to seeing dealers coming to her for chickens during the night. The license number of her car is 9-G-3817.

New 100-Foot Highway To Go Through Niles' Main Street

Officers Are Elected At Chamber of Commerce Luncheon

That the new 100-foot Oakland-Niles-Santa Cruz highway is to go through First street was the information given at Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday. The work is to be completed this year as far as the subway but it will be at least two years before the highway will go through the center of town.

According to stakes placed by surveyors along the highway north of Niles the new road will eliminate the group of buildings about the filling station at the California Nursery intersection and will necessitate the moving of several houses, including the new residence of Judge J. A. Silva.

The pump and a good portion of the orchard at the Belvoir Hotel are also within the surveyed territory. If the present lines of survey hold good in the construction of the highway thru the main street of Niles two years from now, it will mean the moving of the stores and buildings from The Register office south including the post-office telephone office, Mutual, P. G. & E. office and Dan Marble's filling station.

If the stakes set out indicate the edge of the new highway the row of trees along First street escape but if the stakes indicate the center of the highway, as reported to The Register, the trees will be in danger of having to succumb to the march of progress. However , no authentic informa-

UN-IDENTIFIED SUICIDE FOUND NEAR NEWARK

An un-identified man, aged about 40 years, dressed in a brown suit and a gray cap committed suicide by hanging himself on a tree not far from Newark Tuesday morning. No means of identification were found.

The man seemed to have been travelling on foot and carrying a bundle but was distinctly not the hobo type. He used the rope from about his bundle to end his life, throwing it over a limb and fastening it about his neck. By assuming a sitting posture he strangled himself. His position seemed to be that of natural rest and he was probably passed by a number of times due to the fact that his appearance signified nothing out of the ordinary.

The body was taken to F. F. Botelho's funeral parlor and will probably be turned over to the coroner in case no one identifies it.

STREET WIDENED UNDER DIRECTION OF JOE GOMES

Considerable improvement on Vallejo street has been made recently under the direction of Roadmaster J. D. Gomes, the thoroughfare having been widened 20 feet from the Associated Oil station south. The shoulders were re-gravelled and rolled.

Capper's Weekly Exploits Advantages of Community

IN ALAMEDA COUNTY—on the the eastern shore of the great harbor of San Francisco Bay—are several highly specialized farming areas, largely devoted to orchards, truck gardening, poultry raising, and dairying. Other districts include general farming, vineyards, and the raising of fine stock.

All of these agricultural districts are within a few miles of the cities of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, San Leandro, and San Francisco. In all of these agricultural districts are up-to-date, progressive towns, with splendid grammar and high schools. Within convenient distance are the University of California, Stanford University and Mills College, the latter exclusively for women.

Fine concrete highways radiate in all directions. Three railroads serve Alameda County's agricultural districts so shipping to either local or distant markets is an eeasy matter. Hayward, in Alameda County, is the second largest poultry-raising district in California and ranks first in pigeon and squab raising. Decoto is noted for producing the best cauliflower grown; Alvarado for potatoes, tomatoes, and spinach; Livermore for fine stock, Irvington for strawberries, Centerville for cherries and apricots, Pleasanton for dairying and dairy stock, Mission San Jose for grapes, and Niles ships annually over a half-million roses to all parts of the world from the states' most extensive and successful nursery.

Here in Alameda County agricultural products reach a high standard of perfection. The largest pumpkin of record, weighing 385 pounds and exhibited at the Chicago World's Fair, was grown at Decoto, Cabbages weighing thirty to forty pounds are not uncommon. Pear trees planted before 1840 at Mission San Jose bear fruit weighing two and a quarter pounds apiece. Extremely fertile soil and matchless growing climate are a combination which bring top prices in the open market.

Agriculture

For years Alameda County took every agricultural prize it competed for at the Sacramento State Fair and its prize-winning general exhibits are now rivaling this record. Oakland is the home of the annual Pacific Slope Dairy Show, which draws from the entire eleven western states. From Alameda County community, the major scenic and historical attractions of the entire state are not more than a day's drive and many of them only a few hours. Alameda County residents spend week-ends in the Yosemite Valley, at Lake Tahoe and Clear Lake, at the Russian River resorts, and during the summer there are countless delightful camping spots.

Home life is of a high standard, educational advantages are everything to be desired, a comfortable living can be made on 10, 20, 30, 40 and 50-acre places—according to the crops raised. Write to any bank in Alameda County for information, or to the

NILES CANYON VISITED BY MANY SUNDAY

Fruit Blossoms Attract Visitors to Washington Township

Niles and Niles Canyon did the first big rush day of the season on Sunday, the warm weather driving hundreds of motorists to the picnic grounds in this picturesque vicinity. Many swimmers took their first 1929 plunge in Alameda creek and ice cream and soft drink stands did record business.

Dan Marble reported one of the busiest days in his entire stay in Niles.

Local motorists to Santa Clara county reported the fruit blossoms there not so far advanced as in Washington Township. Early apricots of this section are in full bloom and are attracting many visitors from the city. Several sight-seeing busses from the city were in this part of the county Sunday.

Sheriff Becker Would Have Law Made Plain

(From The Review)

In a recent issue of The Review it was inadvertently stated that Sheriff Berton Becker was arrested and fined at Williams as a result of shooting ducks out of season.

As a matter of fact, the Sheriff was arrested by Game Wardens, not for violation of any game law relative to the actual shooting of game, but as a result of the Sheriff's refusal to permit the wardens to search his automobile on the highway without their having a warrant for such a search.

Following for Sheriff's refusal which he says was because he believed his constitutional rights were being infringed upon, he was charged with refusing to exhibit game to a game warden, found guilty in the Justice's court and fined $300.

Sheriff Becker states that an appeal is being filed with the purpose of securing, if possible, a ruling of a higher court regarding the status of a Peace Officer, whether he be a game warden or employee in any other capacity in stopping and searching automobiles on a highway.

Touching on this matter, Sheriff Becker says: "So many conflicting opinions have been handed down on this matter that the motorist travelling the highway does not know what are his rights nor does the officer know whether he is proceeding in a lawful manner, therefore he hopes to have a far-reaching decision that will be beneficial to all, this being nothing more or less than a test case."

Published stories in reference to the deer killing case at Niles by "Sheriff's deputies" should have carried the statement that these deputies, Secada and O'Farrell, were "special deputies" not on the payroll of the Sheriff's office, and doubtless were chosen on recommendation of the people of Niles neighborhood.

A Sheriff, and practically every other public official, has enough public dissatisfaction to contend with without having to bear the brunt of disfavor occasioned by misstatement. While some may disagree with his attitude in reference to search, it is probably true that Sheriff Becker will render a real service to all in having protested, and in securing a higher-court interpretation of the legality affecting the Peace Officer.

From Oakland to Dante's View
with J.R.Bradford

"One of the most interesting journeys I ever made," said J. R. Bradford, upon his return to Oakland; "throughout the trip, 1588 miles, I used Associated Ethyl gasoline in my Buick sedan and, because of it, exceptionally fine results were obtained as regards power, pick-up, speed and economy."

Although many times drivers are obliged to use low gear in the 6,000 foot climb to Dante's View from the floor of Death Valley, Bradford made it easily in second gear. Sharp turns and steep grades mark this strenuous climb.

Associated Ethyl Gasoline increases power by putting carbon to work. It gives stronger, smoother engine action, less shifting, quicker pick-up and knock-less performance. This super-fuel reduces operating costs and lengthens your motor's life.

Drive in at any red, green and cream station and fill up with Associated Ethyl Gasoline.

"Willow Apartments" Tree House of Happy Centerville Youths

Lives there a man with soul so dead who never to himself hath said when a boy, let's build a tree house? Whether it's proof of our monkey ancestry or not, there seems to be a common instinct, in the heart of every boy to build his play home in the branches of a tree. One of the most elaborate of these structures is to be found on the property of Captain and Mrs. T. K. Oaks of Centerville, where their nephew, Jack Stevenson, and his gang hang out—and up.

The apartment has three rooms and is more or less completely furnished. It is constucted of scrap lumber and discardd linoleum. It has a varied assortment of lamps and lanterns, a stove, bed chairs, etc. High up in the tree, above the "Willow Apartments," is a barrel, "the crow's nest," a look-out when spies must seek out unwelcome invaders.

Many a meal is taken from the family board and lugged into the Willow Apartments where the gang can gather and partake of nourishment in more genial atmosphere than the dignified family gathering in an ordinary dining room.

There are plenty of books and from time to time the strains of music from ukes, banjos, "juice-harps" et cetera are wafted down from the ethereal heights.

Jack Stevenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stevenson, is the architect and leading spirit in this club. He has been assisted liberally and spiritually by John Gronley and Arthur Bino.

Jack is one of the traffic cops at the Centerville Grammar school. He is thirteen years of age.

Here's luck and happy days to the gang in the Willow tree.

Philco-All-Electric Best Radio Set Yet

Philadelphia, Pa.—The Philadelphia Storage Battery Co., makers of the favorably—received Philco all-electric radio set, marks the new year with a fresh model containing eight tubes, and a new type of electro-dynamic speaker.

"The new model is no less than sensational in performance," said a Philco executive today. "Every quality that has made for such excellent performance in the Philco of last year has been redoubled. Though the Philco set came out last fall for the first time, it achieved a high reputation as an instrument of pep and power. Its distance range was vast, its selectivity striking and its tone realistic. Now with its eight tubes, the new model re-doubles the quality of these performances.

"The Philco now has even greater power, greater response, and sharper tuning. And when it comes to tone, you can get tremendous volume without distortion. We have overcome the tendency of the type of speaker to over-emphasize the bass notes. The new Philco product gives life-like tone balance by bringing out the high notes as well as preserving the pleasing background of the lows. When we came out last year we said a number of nice things about our set, but we understated the case. What I am saying now may sound like braging, but again we are understanding the qualities of Philco. Just listen to the new model and hear for yourself."

Philco has some unusual testimonials in its possession. One user tells of 8410 radio miles, including six Japanese stations. Another of 88 stations in a single night. Still another of four stations on three points of the dial.

GRETA GARBO AT OAKLAND THEATER STARTING FRIDAY

Greta Garbo, sensual siren of exotic love, comes to the Oakland theater for the week, starting Friday, in her newest and most fascinating picture, "Wild Orchids." Nils Asther, handsome and debonair, plays opposite the star, interpreting the Prince of Java whose warm blood matches the tropical climate in which the picture is played.

Java, island of breathless nights and mellow moons, is the setting, with the pent-up tropical storms finding answer in the pent-up emotions of the islanders and the visitors who feel the urge to break loose. Here, at last, is a picture in which the amorous charm of the slumbrous Miss Garbo is matched by a personality of burning response in Nils Asther.

On the stage the same week the Oakland theater offers a stage of merriment in the Fanchon and Morco Idea "Gobs of Joy" starring Arthur Pat West and twenty other favorites, with a host of beautiful girls.

Decoto School Needs Additional Rooms

The board of trustees will be asked to provide another addition to the building this summer to take care of the incerased attendance, Mr. Peacock said.

Mrs. Frances H. Anderson will visit Irvington this week-end.

"The Unknown Soldier"

TO APPROPRIATELY honor our gallant, unknown, World war soldiers through the appropriate honoring of a single unknown, dead soldier, congress, in 1920, passed a resolution to bring back from "over there" the body of an unknown hero for burial, with befitting ceremony, in Arlington cemetery.

Accordingly from among the endless rows in four foreign cemeteries one unmarked grave in each was selected and the boxes removed. No record showed who these heroes were or whence they came. At Chalons-sur-Marne, while French troops guarded, a sergeant laid a bouquet on the flag-draped box of the hero which he had selected as the "Unknown."

This box was placed under guard, enclosed in a metal casket, placed in state, borne to Havre, carried aboard the Olympia (Admiral Dewey's flagship at Manila); brought to Washington, loaded on a gun carriage, placed in the Capitol where the President's wife placed across the flag the badge of owner ship of the mothers of our land.

Two days later the casket was taken to Arlington on the Virginia hills across the Potomac river from Washington, followed by the President, General Pershing, members of the senate and house of representatives and other distinguished dignitaries.

A salute was fired, the Marine band played, prayer was offered; the President expressed the sentiment of the American people, pinned upon the casket the Medal of Honor and the Distinguished Service Cross; decorations of foreign countries were added by their representatives; a scriptural lesson read, "Nearer My God to Thee" sung, the casket carried to the sarcophagus at the amphitheater and taps sounded.

Today, this grave is one of the most visited of all our public shrines.

A startling development in home lighting—

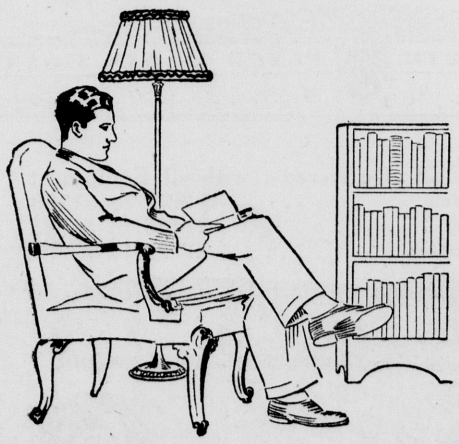
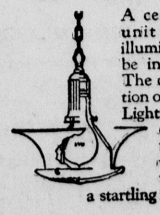
P. G. and E. customers have adopted it



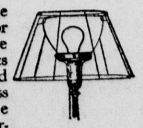
NO one can ever forget, after they've tried them, the smooth light from these new Duplex lighting units. It's the diffusion and correct control of light that makes the difference. Raw light is broken up. Mellow'd. Spread throughout the whole room. An opal glass reflector under the lamp shade does this. The pleasant light gives new life to furniture. Clear color to draperies. In this light, friends love to linger for all can clearly tell "spades" from "clubs". There are no glaring bright spots in the room. Or murky dark spots to cause squinting and eye-strain.

Lighting engineers designed these lamps. Artists beautified them.

The lamps are made in floor, table and ceiling units. There are many styles and a selection of silk and parchment shades. Phone or call at our office and see these modern Duplex lamps. Let us send to your home a lamp on approval.



A central ceiling unit for general illumination should be in every room. The cut shows section of modern unit. Light is directed to ceiling and reflected evenly throughout whole room—a startling improvement.



The shade of the floor and table lamps rests on closed top of glass globe which surrounds electric lamp and diffuses raw light—a simple invention, yet it's revolutionizing light.

$15,000 Grammar School Bond Election for Centerville

On March 29 the residents of Centerville will vote upon a $15,000 bond election for the Grammar school. This sum will replace the old school house with a new primary department, purchase an adjacent lot, furniture, and other neccessary apparatus, make alterations in the school building, improve the grounds, and insure the entire school buildings.

The bond election is very neccessary as the school is overcrowded, the plaster of the old school is falling down on the pupils's heads, it is poorly ventilated by coal stoves which give colds, the cooking class has been abandoned because the room is being used as a regular classroom, and as a whole the building is unsafe.

One room was constructed in 1851.

This old landmark will have to be razed. The old bell which is used no longer is to be placed in the new building.

This is the first time in many years that a bond election has been called. The trustees of the school are Manuel Oliveira, Mrs. Isabell M. Coit, and Allen G. Norris.

There is no reason why this bond election should not carry.

The polls are at the grammar school.

Natural Gas Project ... of P.G.&E. Under Way

Started at top speed, construction of the 250-mile pipe line that will bring natural gas from the San Joaquin Valley oil fields to San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose and adjacent territory is well under way and proceeding at a rate that will enable the Pacific Gas and Electric Company to adhere to its plans to begin delivery of the gas in the Bay region by August 1st.

Work on the first unit of this $13,000,000 enterprise was begun at Tres Pinos, San Benito county, during the first week in February.

Natural gas will bring two-fold benefit to the San Francisco Bay area and intervening points. Because of its greater heat qualities, it will mean a substantial reduction in customer's costs and it will greatly stimulate and develop industry because of its cheapness and particular adaptability for practically all kinds of manufacturing. Its high heat qualities and cleanness will make it especially beneficial to many lines of specialty plants—glass and pottery works—as well as plants requring large boiler installations.

Pipe for the system from Milpitas south is being manufactured by the A. O. Smith corporation, of Milwaukee, while that for the Milpitas-Oakland unit will be supplied by the Western Pipe and Steel Company, South San Francisco. Provision for the main into San Francisco already has been made, through the laying of a 20-inch pipe down the Penisula.

Customers in San Francisco and other Bay region cities will be served a mixture of natural and artificial gas with 700 British thermal heat units as compared with the 550 units in the present supply of manufactured gas. This mixture, experience in other cities has proven will cause a minimum of truble and inconvenience through adjustment of burners and appliances.

Animals and Science.

Animals have not contributed solely to the welfare of human beings, Dr. John A. Kolmer points out in Hygeia Magazine. The lower animals are directly benefited by the advances in biological therapy.

Tetanus antitoxin, for instance, is often used to prevent tetanus in wounded animals. Antianthrax serum combats anthrax in sheep and cattle. A serum for hog cholera is successfully employed by veterinarians. Dogs are vaccinated against rabies. There are also serums for joint-ill of colts; hemorrhagic septicemia of horses, cattle, hogs and sheep; white scours of hogs, cats, dogs and sheep; infectious abortion of cows, and rinderpest of cattle.

Red Rice, Newark Jungle King Must Vacate Poison Oak Refuge

King of Newark Jungles, Red Rice, expects to move his throne. For the past nine years inhabiting his two-room lean-to apartment in the poison oak jungles on the Patterson Brothers' ranch at Newark where he took refuge when he ran away from a Santa Clara county hospital to prevent the amputation of his hand, Red must make way for the cultivation of the soil in that particular spot, but he has been promised another abiding place not far away.

Red, whose real name he will not divulge since he has sisters in San Francisco who might be embarrassed by his present status, was born in '61, and his trade was that of a sheep herder, later a dairy hand. He suffered from tuberculosis in his earlier days and when an infection set up in an injured hand he learned that the doctors planned to amputate. He ran away from the hospital and strange to say his hand was cured. Life in the open has healed his lungs.

During these nine years Red has made many friends among the transient gentlemen who appear upon the highways carrying their all in a bundle upon their backs. The children too have been permitted to become his friends. Members of train crews throw him papers and magazines whose pictpures are cut out and saved for his juvenile visitors, who in turn bring him odds and ends of food.

He has two rooms to his apartment. They are lean-to's built of sticks and sacks and pasteboard. He sleeps on the ground and cooks on an open fire.

He has been of real service during his residence in his poison oak jungle as he serves as a fire watchman during the dry season.

3LO With Plenty of Volume

"We got station 3LO at Melbourne, Australia, with more volume than we could use, and with extraordinary clarity of tone."
MRS. A. R. MUNSILL, Pasadena, Cal.

88 Stations

"I cut through local interference and easily brought in 88 distant stations from all parts of the country. The Philco is particularly good in the low wave lengths where most sets fall down."
J. P. HANLEY, Chicago, Ill.

5 Japanese Stations

"I have logged many eastern stations and the following Japanese stations: JOBK, JOHK, JOAK, JOFK, JOTK. The Philco has marvelous selectivity and surplus volume and quality that is amazing."
W. M. MORRISON, San Diego, Calif.

Wonderful Selectivity

"My hat is off to the Philco. I have tuned in Los Angeles, Dallas and Atlanta on 2 points of the dial."
L. O. DARLING, Buffalo, N. Y.

Breaks Through Interference

"Ouray is difficult for radio because of high mountains and high voltage transmission lines. Philco is the first set that has ever been satisfactory here."
M. J. CANAVAN, Ouray, Colo.

Superb Tone

"Philco has given me a new conception of the possibilities of radio music. Its tone quality is exceptionally fine."
MRS. E. V. TURNER, Dallas, Tex.

"During the day my wife gets many distant stations—Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Florida and many low power stations."
EARLE R. WAUGH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Vast Coverage

"I got Hawaii, Alaska, Washington, California, and Oregon, 20 stations in Canada, and 100 in the U. S. All came in clear."
RAY C. BLOOM, Muscatine, Ia.

Sensitive Tuning

"I find it very easy to tune in between 30 and 40 stations on my Philco. Powerful stations which usually tune very broadly I can tune out within one or two points of the dial."
J. DIXON DAVIS, Cincinnati, O.

Distance and Selectivity

"The first night I used the Philco I tuned in 42 stations, including KFI, Los Angeles, and two Canadian stations. Reception is beautiful."

Cheese Dishes

CHEESE is one of our most valuable foods, is rich in nourishment, has almost no waste, so when one buys a pound of cheese a pound may be eaten without waste. This is not true of other protein foods. Meat has a large per cent of waste, so that cheese is much more economical, even when a higher price per pound.

Cheese is used for flavor and enrichment of such foods as rice, macaroni and bread. When eaten, if perfectly masticated, there is no reason for indigestion. It has been called hard to digest because it is so often eaten after a hearty meal; being very concentrated food, the consequence is indigestion; not the fault of the cheese.

Welsh Rarebit.—Cut one-half pound of American cheese into pieces in the top of a double boiler or chafing dish. Melt the cheese slowly; as it melts add one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and paprika, one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper, one-half teaspoonful of mustard. When melted stir in gradually one-half cupful of cold water and a teaspoonful of worcestershire sauce. Cook until smooth and serve on salad crackers or crisp toast.

Tomato Rarebit.—Heat one pint of canned tomatoes, add one teaspoonful each of salt and sugar, a dash of pepper and cayenne and one tablespoonful of chopped onion. When hot melt in one-half pound of rich cheese cut into bits, adding it gradually, while stirring constantly. When smooth, add one teaspoonful of butter, one beaten egg. Serve on slices of hot toasted bread or crackers.

Cheese Dreams.—Cut thin slices of bread and butter. Arrange thin slices of Swiss or American cheese on half the slices. Cover each with a buttered slice and brown quickly in a hot frying pan. If toasted in the broiler butter the outside of the sandwiches.

He was one of Newark's own "boys" having been born and raised here and will be missed as much as anyone could ever or ever will be missed. The deceased leaves a widow and five children to mourn his passing.

MORE ON AD CLUB DINNER

a member of the Niles Advertising Club.

"You can't get anywhere standing still. Everything you do is advertising. Pull together. Say 'I helped to put it across.' This organization can be a great factor in community building.

'What you have to sell is Niles and what it can mean to the man who comes here to live. You can't do anything without advertising. Wrigley is spending a million a year in spite of the fact that he has achieved success. He has set the jaws of the world going but he knows he must advertise to keep the business progressing.

"You've got to pull together if you put this town across. The Chamber of Commerce, the Advertising Club, whatever organizations there are have to work together. And you'll get out of it just what you put into it yourself.

"A community where railways and highways meet, but that won't mean anything to you unless you advertise the fact outside of Niles.

"In June we expect 4,000 to attend the convention of the Pacific Advertising Clubs Association at Oakland. We want to tell them about Niles and some of them will want to come out to Niles.

"Some of these days we should get together—the ad clubs of Oakland and San Jose—and meet at Niles and have a barbecue as one of your members suggested.

"It is not necessary to join the Pacific Advertising Clubs Association, though we hope you will do that eventually, to enjoy our meetings at Oakland. You are welcome to come to our Tuesday noon luncheons at Hotel Oakland and you will enjoy our programs. Today we broadcast from the dining room the program furnished by the National Broadcasting company and the address about radio advertising by Mr. Arnold of the National Broadcast Company.

Remember you have to stick together, pull together and advertise your town."

Mrs. Huey, who is responsible for the splendid programs of the Oakland club stated: "I envy you who will build up this club. You will enjoy it and it will mean much to you. You must have good programs. You must have entertainment. You can't have the things that will please all of your members all the time but you must vary your programs so that each will at one time or another have the things he especially enjoys.

"The greatest advantage of belonging to an ad club is the opportunity to make friendships. Who has six friends is wealthy."

Mr. Walsh stated that a few months ago they were at the San Jose organizations meeting with no more present than Niles had Tuesday evening. "Your prospects are bright. I know you will succeed," he said.

Letter Comes From Former Resident

The following letter from one of our subscribers may be of interest to friends of this former resident, Mrs. Jessie M. Higley Weathers.

Lenapah, Okla., Feb. 9, 1929

MR. NORMAN PARKS.
Editor Township Register,
Niles, California.

Dear Sir: Replying to your very nice letter.

The address for my paper is absolutely correct in every detail.

I received a paper February eighth of January thirty-first. I do not doubt but what my paper is started correctly. Lenapah office I do not think is to blame. No doubt the paper became sidetracked in transit; as the lost or belated ones turn up after a while, when another is about due. The way is long and the possibilities of loss not uncommon. I thank you very much for your courtesy in writing me. I am often tempted to jot down on paper for publication my impressions of people and things way off here in Oklahoma.

Our winter here has been a very lovely one. Very little snow and not much cold weather. Just the same, California for me. My neighbors, many of them are of Cherokee blood but fine and bring to mind the saying "White man's good as a nigger if he behaves himself." In God's kingdom we are taught there is no distinction therefore why should we make one.

You will understand what I mean without detail.

Again thanking you,
Very truly yours,
Jessie M. Higley Weathers

Odd Creatures Found in Subterranean Life

Subterranean animal life presents many curious features. The life of the animals of the caves is unique. The subterranean forms of life develop, reproduce and die entirely without sunlight. Among such forms of life there is none of the mammal form, except a species of rat; and there is no cavebird. Then, too, none of the subterranean animals requires much nourishment.

The greater abundance and variety of this life is met in grottoes with underground rivers. Usually the subterranean life resembles the general types of the country. It has entered the caves and there become acclimated, undergoing curious adaptive modifications. So it happens that we generally find, in modified forms, the life of our own time. In some caverns, however, there seem to be disclosed the remains of an ancient animal life that has everywhere else disappeared from the terrestrial rivers, living only in the caverns.

The creatures of modern species that have adapted themselves to underground conditions are sharply differentiated from the dwellers in the light. Their skin is of a whitish hue or else transparent. The eye atrophies or altogether disappears. The optic nerve and the optic lobes vanish, leaving the brain extraordinarily modified. Other organs develop in proportion; those of hearing, smell and touch become enlarged to a degree. Sensitive hairs, long and coarse, appear all over the body.

Din of Modern Battle Ended Drum's Prestige

It was France which took the initiative, years ago, of doing away with the drum. Other nations followed the example, and long before the World war the drum had disappeared.

It still figures in military bands, of course, but it plays no more part in warfare than the harp or the violin.

Thus ended a long and honorable military career. The Greeks ascribe the invention of the drum to Bacchus. The Egyptians charged behind a rank of drummers. Pizarro found drums in South American temples. The Puritans of New England used the drum as a church bell and as a call to arms against invading Indians.

The heroic drummer boy was the stock figure of authors from Pliny down to Kipling.

But France pointed out to the world that the drum was a serious encumbrance to marching, that rain spoiled it, that its calls could not be heard in the din of battle, that it took two years to train an efficient drummer, and that the instrument's abandonment would release many young men for active service.

The drum was accordingly done away with.—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Happy Gorilla Family.

The gorilla is monogamous and divorce and remarriage are not among his problems. When domestic relations have once been formed they remain "until death doth part." No companionate or trial marriages in the forest. The young cling to the family group until matured, and often longer, bringing their own mates to live in the habitat of their parents. The reputation of this type of ape for ferocity is said to have been greatly exaggerated. As might be expected of an animal loving peaceful home life with its family, the gorilla, naturalists assert, rarely becomes dangerous unless attacked. In defense of its family or itself, however, it will savagely attack an aggressor who forces it into battle.

Earth's Motions.

The Naval observatory says that it cannot say that the earth has any certain definite number of motions. "Popular Astronomy," by Flammarion and Gore, gives the following as the 11 principal motions of the earth—other authorities might regard their number as greater or less than 11: Rotation on its axis, revolution about the sun, procession of the equinoxes, motion around the center of gravity of earth and moon, nutation, variation in the obliquity of the elliptic, variation in the eccentricity, motion of the perihelion, planetary perturbations, motion of the sun around the center of gravity, of the solar system and the sun's motion through space.

Glow Worm Still Puzzle.

Because it is to be found in the grass and similar places the so-called glowworm is generally regarded as a worm, but it is really a beetle and does not deserve the name it popularly bears. There are about 500 glow-producing insects, but the why and wherefore of their glow is more or less a secret. If their secret could be learned it might probably lead scientists to the discovery of heatless light, an end which they have sought for years. There are various theories about the purpose of their light, but none is really satisfactory.

Buy At Home

There are many reasons why home merchants should be patronized. If the individual asks himself to honestly solve the query as to why he should buy at home, he will give his reasons, if he be honest, the following answers:

Because this is the place where I make an income, and this is the place to spend it;

Because my interests are here;

Because I believe in transacting business with friends;

Because the community that is good enough to live in is good enough to buy in;

Because I want to see the goods I buy and I want to get what I pay for;

Because every dollar I spend at home stays at home and works for the development of our city—my city;

Because the firm I buy from stands back of their goods;

Because I sell what I produce here at home, whether it be talent or goods;

Because the man or firm from whom I buy pays part of the city and county taxes;

Because the man or firm I buy from helps support my school, my church, my club and my home;

Because if I keep spending my money away from home it will be a long time getting back, and it may never get back at all;

Because if all of it were sent away and none of it came back, how long would this town last?

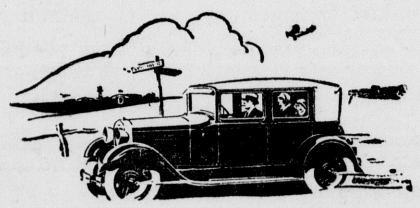
Tires for the new Ford are specially made to give long wear



WHEN the new Ford was designed, it was immediately apparent that a new tire would have to be made to match the car's performance. It was distinctly a new problem, for here was a car with quicker acceleration, greater speed and more braking efficiency than any car of similar size or weight.

So that every Ford owner might be assured of maximum tire mileage at the lowest cost, the Ford Motor Company devoted many months to research and experiment in conjunction with the leading tire manufacturers.

As a result, certain definite specifications were developed for tires for the new Ford. These specify cords of certain strength and texture, a large volume of tread and side-wall rubber, sturdy non-skid design, and reinforced plies for protection against bruise breaks—all the strong features of construction formerly considered for only the largest tires.

Great care also was taken to secure the best riding qualities in connection with the transverse springs and the Houdaille shock absorbers.

Though the Ford tires are designated as 30 x 4.50, they have the resiliency and air space of much larger tires because of the drop center rim of the steel-spoke wheels.

For best results, the tires on the new Ford should be kept inflated to an air pressure of 35 pounds and checked regularly to insure this pressure all the time. This is important. Low inflation breaks down the sidewalls of a tire. By causing overheating, it also destroys the rubber that acts as an insulation, with consequent separation of the cord.

At the end of each 5000 miles, when you have the front wheels packed with grease, it is a good plan to have the wheel alignment checked. This will prevent premature wear.

When punctures come, as they will with any tire, you will find the Ford dealer particularly well-equipped to make repairs quickly and at small cost. See him, too, for replacements. Then you will be sure of getting tires built specially for the Ford car according to definite Ford specifications.

Roadmaster Gomes Visits Co. Hospital

Joseph D. Gomes and family visited Highland Hospital Sunday. Mr. Gomes was very much enthused over the conditions in the hospital. Every room was in perfect order. They also visited the kitchens, where the same cleanliness and order prevailed. Committees are appointed among the nurses, to see that the nurses' sleeping quarters and recreation rooms are always ready for inspection, which is very rigid and exact.

The hospital has only enough beds to accommodate three hundred and fifty patients.

Mr. Gomes believes tha it would do some of the taxpayers who are reluctant about supporting this hospital, a lot of good to see where their money is going and how it is being spent. Mr. Gomes firmly believes that the Highland Hospital is one of the best, if not the very best, in the whole state.

MAGICIAN AT NEXT ASSEMBLY

Mr. Edwin Brush, who will be here at the Student Assembly on March 8, 1929, has the art of mystifying an audience developed to a fine science. "Now you see it, and now you don't."

Mr. Brush has performed for many schools, theaters, and various audiences. You'll think you have the mystery solved—but you won't. Among his many tricks he will present the famous Hindu basket trick. He will present tricks culled from India, England, China, and France.

We could tell you more about this wonderful magician, but come and see for yourself. Don't forget, March 8, and tell your friends. Regular admission 25 cents, and school students ten cents. A dollar's worth of fun for a dime.

BASEBALL WRITE UP

The baseball season for Washington Hi was officially opened last Monday with a large squad reporting for practice.

The "grounds" are in excellent condition which is greatly appreciated by the team, especially the infield men.

There are a great many new players noticeable on the field, together with a good many of last year's men. With the support of these men and our student body, Coach Regli expects to have a very successful season. However there are quite a few boys who are not reporting. No one knows whether it is bashfulness or timidity, but we can see that those boys should come, if possible, and help the team.

Our first practice game will be with St. Josephs High of San Jose today.

The probable starting lineup will be: Catcher, A. Fields; pitcher, R. Ferry; 1st, J. Cull; 2nd, M. Fontes; 3rd, R. Jolliff; shortstop, C. Pine; left field, E. Lebon; center field, H. Ferria; right field, E. Thompson.

There will be a great many changes during the game so that the coach may determine who are his best men.

STUDENT BODY

At a special meeting, on Feb. 15, the students were entertained by three representatives of the University of California. Miss Ruth Waldo played four selections on the piano. One number, "Doin the Raccoon" was a request by James Bunker.

Dorothy Murdock spoke on the differences between high school and college. She told of the English A test, which consists chiefly of a composition. She also stressed the fact that college life depends on three things; namely, culture, friendship, and experience.

Mr. Fred Stripp, Jr., a former baseball star of Berkeley High school, spoke on debating, music, dramatics, and social clubs at college. He told of the opportunities in joining these organizations in order to meet people. "The most important thing at a college or university is to carefully choose your friends and associates," was one of Mr. Stripp's closing phrases.

SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY

The California Scholarship Federation, Chapter III, held its semester initiation Wednesday afternoon, the sixth period.

The twelve applicants for membership were placed on trial on the auditorium stage. Their mentalities were tested by the honorable Judge Mary Caldeira. If they were found to be fit for admittance to the society, Sentinels Moulter and Lucas passed them. They were then received into the society. Much enjoyment was had by the old members, although it was far from fun for the novitiates.

The ones who were initiated were Mary Azevedo, Madelyn Avila, Gertrude Ellsworth, Nora Broberg, Jack Bunker, Jenny Malloy, Marjorie Martin, Irene Oliveria, Theo Elliot, Edward Kettman, Lenora Neves, and Bernice Boyd. They are now fullfledged members.

Mystery of Dollar Mark.

There are many theories as to the origin of the dollar mark, but there is not one which seems to be thoroughly satisfactory. It is popularly supposed to be a conventional combination of the letters U S, but there are some which say that it is a sign made use of by the ancient sun worshipers of Central Asia, while another attributes it to the bookkeeper of a Virginia tobacco warehouse. There are various other explanations, all of which have been investigated by a university professor who has given special study to the subject, and his conclusion is that the dollar mark as we know it is a direct descendand from the Spanish abbreviations PS for pesos, the letters of which have been gradually combined and metamorphosed into the present dollar mark. The P was often made with two strokes, which could very readily in the course of time, become U by making one down stroke and continuing the line upward.
